Google Forms is a free online tool from Google which allows users to create forms, surveys, and quizzes as well as to collaboratively edit and share the forms with other people. Educators can use Google forms to assess their students at the beginning of the class and gauge pre-existing knowledge. Furthermore, Google forms can be used to give feedback to and receive feedback from students and parents. Similarly, students can use Google forms to assess their own learning and set the learning goals as well as to collect data for their research projects.

Creating a Form from Scratch

The screenshot shows a form creation interface with a purple header and a light purple background. A central white panel contains the form editor. Red arrows and circles highlight specific features:

- Untitled form: A red circle around the back arrow and the text "Untitled form" in the top left header.
- Name your form: A red arrow pointing to the "Untitled form" text in the center of the form editor.
- Background: A red arrow pointing to the palette icon (a circle with a paintbrush) in the top right header.
- Preview: A red arrow pointing to the eye icon in the top right header.
- Settings: A red arrow pointing to the gear icon in the top right header.
- Require a Response: A red circle around the "Required" toggle switch at the bottom right of the question editor.

The form editor shows a "QUESTIONS" tab with a "Form description" field and a "Multiple choice" question titled "Untitled Question". The question has two options: "Option 1" and "Add option or ADD OTHER". The "Required" toggle is currently off.
